

How to get a Senior Food Box – Rural

The Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) is a federal program that provides eligible seniors with a MONTHLY box of shelf-stable items. It includes a variety of meats and fruits/vegetables, juice, cereal, pasta, peanut butter, and cheese.

You must be at least 60 years of age, have a household gross income at or below 150% of the federal poverty guidelines, and reside in the county in which you apply.

Please contact one of the following CSFP Partner Agencies in your county to apply for the program. It is highly suggested that you call the agency first to make an appointment. Please bring a federally approved document (drivers license, state ID, birth certificate, etc.) to verify your identity AND a document with your current address to the appointment.
